LITTLETON.

A Sad Case of Drowning.

Littleton has another awful tragedy, the seventh in three months, to record in the drowning on Wednesday afternoon of Miss Mona G. Gibson of Manchester, N. H., twenty years old, a recent nurse graduate at the Beacon Hill hospital, Boston, and Dr. O. N. Dages, twenty-seven years of age, graduate of Princeton, 1906, and Harvard medical school, 1910.

Miss Gibson and Mr. Dages with other nurses and physicians associated with them during the summer in floating hospital work had been camping in one of the Richard Barrows' cottages near Fort pond.

Wednesday afternoon they with Miss Littlefield went out in their bathing suits for a boat ride. On their return all three jumped into the water when about fifty yards from shore with the intention of wading the rest of the way. Miss Littlefield, who jumped from the end of the boat nearest the shore, soon waded in, and looking vain for her companions, rushed terrified to the cottage for assistance.

Dr. Christie was summoned immediately and Mr. Barrow and other neighbors hurried to the scene of disaster. The bodies were recovered in a short time, but both were lifeless. E. W. Cox, who rendered valuable assistance in calling aid, telephoned to Coroner Chamberlain of Concord, who was detailed for two hours during which time the bodies lay on the shore guarded by kind friends. After the examination the dead were taken by Undertaker William H. Davis to his home to await further orders.

Miss Gibson's body was shipped to her home in Manchester, N. H., on Thursday evening, reaching its destination on Friday, September 23, the date for arrival promised in her last letter to her mother. Dr. Dages' body was sent Friday morning to his home in Columbus, Ohio.

Recognition.

The recognition service for Rev. Harrison L. Packard on Wednesday evening was attended by a large number of people from the three local churches in the neighboring towns. John Wardrobe Thacher, senior deacon of the church took charge of the exercises in the beautiful auditorium. Miss Emma Tenney presided at the organ and played a beautiful voluntary. The church choir ably supplemented by Mrs. Mattie Priest, soloist of the evening and her son, Carlton Priest.

Regrets were announced from Rev. G. M. Howe of Groton, Rev. William Batt of Concord Junction and Rev. H.

B. Drew of the Baptist church, Littleton. The reading of the Scriptures was by Rev. O. J. Fairfield, pastor of the Unitarian church, and prayer was offered by Rev. George Tewksbury of Concord. This was followed by the address of the evening by Dr. F. E. Emerick, whose beautiful personality adds so much to his words. The speaker reviewed most pleasantly his acquaintance with Mr. Packard from the latter's boyhood in Halifax, where his memory is cherished, through college years at Amherst, and his ministry in Pelham, Beverly, and Kingston, where the benediction of his life and activities sweetly lingers. To this Dr. Emerick added his confidence that Mr. Packard's ministry in this church and community would advance the supremacy of Jesus, the fatherhood of God, and the unity of christian spirit and purpose.

Rev. Henry B. Mason, pastor of the Harvard Congregational church, extended greetings to his former fellow-worker, and welcomed him to a conference that needs efficient service and congratulated the conference in its acquisition of an able and willing worker. From Rev. Paul G. Favor of Somerville came most cordial greetings and many helpful suggestions for mutual good between pastor and people.

After the benediction by Rev. H. L. Packard, the company retired to the vestry below, where Mr. and Mrs. Packard, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Conant and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kimball, received in the spacious auditorium most beautifully and artistically decorated for the occasion. Mrs. C. K. Houghton enlivened the festivities much by her ensemble music throughout the evening.

At little after ten o'clock, the reception was concluded with the universal feeling that the combination of recognition service and reception had proved in all respects a grand success.

The club program for the Tadmuck club for the season 1910-11 have been issued to the members. Without they are attractive in their pretty, modest, gray covers with ribbon to match and within there is much of promise for instruction and entertainment and the arrangement for the season reflects the greatest credit upon the executive board and also indicates that the resources of the membership are not exhausted. The topic for special study is, "Spanish North America," and this is interspersed with other timely topics.

The republican caucus will be held at the town hall, Wednesday evening, September 28, to choose delegates to the several conventions and a town committee to serve from January 1911 to January 1912.

John O. Sunberg is preparing for winter, a new house for himself and other small Sunbergs. This at Brookside on the Lowell road, and P. Henry Harrington of Graniteville has the contract for this cozy cottage.

The Oscar R. Spaulding and others grand tour, returned home on Monday evening, much refreshed in behavior and beauty. They reported an epidemic of typhoid fever in Montreal, Canada, and over one hundred deaths. The water was the suspected cause, hence the Westford party took other fluids, but came home straight.

Of the two sick children of August Nelson, one died Tuesday of typhoid fever and burial was on Wednesday, at West Chelmsford.

Forge Village.
 Services at St. Andrew's mission were conducted last Sunday by Rev. Mr. Birkhead of Groton school, who preached an interesting and forceful sermon on the "Religion of today." At the close of the service Mr. Birkhead announced that a parish meeting of great importance would be held in the parish house at Ayer on Thursday evening.

Charles Flanagan, who had an excellent position with the Groton school boys, who have been in camp at Belgrade, Maine, throughout the summer months, has arrived home and has taken up his duties as flagman at the Boston and Maine crossing here.

Interesting Meeting.
 Loyal Self Help lodge, I. O. O. F. M. U. held a very interesting meeting in Abbot hall on Monday evening. A delegation from Loyal Nashoba lodge of Littleton attended and gave a brief but interesting account of Odd Fellowship. William Burnett, one of the oldest members of Self Help lodge, read a report on Odd Fellowship which was greatly enjoyed. A short musical program was given as follows: Song, "My big brother," Charles Flanagan, responding to an encore with "Jilly dale," piano solo, John Shackleton; song and dance, William Baker. John Shackleton was the accompanist of the evening. A full attendance is requested at the next meeting, which will be held on October 3. All arrangements have been made for the dance which will be held in honor of the one hundredth anniversary of the order.

Death.
 Joseph Bennett, an old and highly respected resident of this village for many years, passed away on Sunday evening, September 18, at his late home on Pleasant street, aged 72 yrs. 8 mos. 24 days. Although Mr. Bennett had been confined to his home by illness the past three weeks, his death was not expected and it came as a great shock to his family and numerous friends. His daughter, Mrs. August Meyer of Boston, had come to spend a few days with her father and was preparing to return home when the end came. Another daughter, Mrs. Theophilus Jones and her husband of North Chelmsford, also came to spend the afternoon and only arrived a short time before his death.

Joseph Bennett was born December 27, 1837, at Staffordshire, England, and at the age of twenty-one, he married Miss Elizabeth Hutchinson of Bradford, England. To them thirteen children were born and eight of them are now living. In 1887 he came with his family to this village and was among the early English immigrants to settle here. A few years later he purchased his home, where with his late wife, who had been his faithful companion through life's journey over fifty years, he had spent his declining days. Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett died March 22, 1908.

He leaves to mourn his loss, eight children—William Bennett and Mrs. Silas Ellsworth of Providence, R. I.; Daniel Bennett of Worcester; Mrs. August Meyer of Boston; Mrs. Theophilus Jones of North Chelmsford; Mrs. William Hosmer, Miss Priscilla Bennett and Joseph Bennett of this village; also, twenty-seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at the home on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Sherrard Billings of Groton School read the impressive service of the Episcopal church and the committal prayers at the grave. There was no singing. The bearers were Silas Ellsworth, William Hosmer and August Meyer, sons-in-law, and William Orange, grandson of deceased.

There were many beautiful flowers, the offerings of loving friends and neighbors, who had gathered to pay their final respects to one whom they had esteemed and respected through life. Burial was in the family lot in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. W. Vickers of Stafford Falls, Conn., and William Bennett, quartermaster on the U. S. S. Vermont, were among those from out-of-town, who attended the funeral.

Graniteville.
 Notices have been posted about town for the democratic caucus to be held in the town hall Westford, Tuesday evening, September 27, for the purpose of choosing delegates to the democratic state, councillor, congressional, county, district attorney, senatorial, and representative conventions of 1910.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ingalls of Beverly were recent visitors in this village, coming over the road in Mr. Grant's touring car.

The regular meeting of Court Westford 170, M. C. O. F., was held in their rooms on Thursday night.

Harry Hartford of Westford and Alfred Hughes of this village put up a great game with Townsend in their game with Greenville at West Townsend on last Saturday. Hartford covered second base in a creditable manner and got in three nice hits. Hughes accepted all of his six chances at short without an error and got in his customary two hits, one of them coming in a critical stage of the game when there were two men on bases. Young Hughes is certainly a coming ball player all right and his good work of the past two seasons makes him eligible for faster company.

Harry Folland of the Manchester Union with his sister, Miss Lavina Folland of Manchester, N. H., have been recent guests at the home of Samuel Willis in this village.

A Pleading Service.
 "Old home day," was fittingly observed in the M. E. church here last Sunday, when special services, with appropriate music was held both in the morning and evening. At the morning service the sermon was preached by Rev. Miner H. A. Evans of South Boston, a former pastor of the M. E. church. A pleasing feature of the service was the singing by the male quartet from the Men's club, composed of Henry Smith, L. F. Havermale, Frank Caunter, O. A. Nelson. The choir was also augmented for the occasion and the whole service was very pleasing.

At the evening service the pastor, Rev. Lewis F. Havermale, preached an eloquent sermon from the theme, "The great home coming." The male quartet also ably assisted at this service. Both the morning and evening services were largely attended, many out-of-town visitors and former parishioners being present. The "Old home day" observance was somewhat new to the members of the M. E. church and the pastor, Rev. L. F. Havermale, is to be commended for introducing such a pleasing service.

Football.
 Many of the sports in this village are now thinking of forming a football club to represent Graniteville on the gridiron during the fall season. This village is well equipped with material for a first-class football team, and the only thing lacking at the present time is the services of a hustling manager, who will take full charge and get things moving along. A meeting will be held in the near future for the purpose of electing a manager and getting a list of players who will give their full attention to football for the next few weeks. It is understood that Forge Village and Westford are getting rapidly into trim, so Graniteville will have to get busy if it wants to be considered a live one.

Alliance Meeting.
 The attendance was very good at the meeting held on Thursday of last week at the home of Mrs. Henry Ware. In the unavoidable absence of the president, the vice-president, Mrs. Mary W. Hazen, presided. A piano which had been in the Winslow family for over half a century was used on this occasion and under the skillful touch of Mrs. Mary J. Tucker demonstrated the fact that it had not wholly lost its once fine tune.

The topic for the afternoon being "Religious intelligence," Mrs. Bridgman kindly gave an informal account of her visit to Edinburgh, Scotland, where she and Dr. Bridgman attended the missionary and religious conference, at which all denominations and nearly all nationalities were represented. This conference was the largest of its kind ever held and many very prominent people were present. The speaker also gave many interesting details and exhibited some beautiful views of the Passion Play at Oberammergau, which she saw.

The usual social hour with refreshments followed and all were glad to take advantage of the gracious permission to inspect the fine roomy old mansion, known to the older residents as the Joe Hazen place, which had been newly decorated and improved to meet the needs of the present owners. It is now one of the most delightful summer homes in the Shirley colony and Mrs. Ware is a charming addition to the list of matrons who reside among our beautiful hills for all or part of the year.

The Alliance will next meet with Mrs. Cora Hills on Flat Hill, Lunenburg. The calendar topic is a discussion on "Our public schools." All are expected to participate.

Baseball.
 The Shirley baseball team defeated the Townsend nine on the new field last Saturday afternoon by a score of 10 to 2. Up to the fourth inning the Townsends put up a good game, but continued errors left them in the background, Knight, their pitcher having poor support. The features for Shirley was the batting of Collyer-Cook, Burrill and Tudsbury.

A special and pleasing incident of the contest occurred at the close of the second inning when Manager Fred D. Weeks, on behalf of the Shirley team, presented J. C. Stebbins of Groton with a pretty gold watch fob as a token of appreciation for services given during the season.

Mr. Stebbins, who has given excellent service on the team as catcher this season, responded cordially and to the point with words of sincere gratitude.

The Shirley team play the Townsend players again at Townsend on Saturday afternoon, September 24.

Citizens Who Do Not Endorse Wilder

Prominent Manufacturers Who Are Not Identified With His Candidacy

WILLING TO SAY SO

A political advertisement published recently in various newspapers in this Congressional district and signed by Charles E. Murdock, secretary of the Wilder Campaign committee, states as follows:

"Unable to find a flaw in either the private or public life of Mr. Wilder, his opponents have resorted to political rookeries such as the assertion that he cannot carry his own town; that he is not being supported by the business interests of his own town, and the like, all of which campaign yarns have been exploded when the facts became known.

"Two years ago, when he was a candidate against Congressman Tirrell, Mr. Wilder carried his own town. At that time he had the active opposition of Mr. Tirrell's supporters in Gardner. Today these men who were opposed to him are with him in his canvass.

"He has the written endorsement of a large majority of the leading Republicans of Gardner, who are engaged in manufacturing, mercantile business and professional activities."

To ascertain the correctness of the foregoing statements The Gardner News has interviewed a large number of Gardner manufacturers and finds that the following have not signed any endorsement of Mr. Wilder's candidacy, nor do they intend to do so:

Louis E. Carlton, president Heywood Bros. & Wakefield Co., chair manufacturers.

Frank H. Bancroft, of Bancroft & Barnard, machinists.

Charles O. Bent, formerly of S. Bent & Bros., chair manufacturers.

Frederick M. Greenwood, president Mahoney Chair Co.

Frank J. Pierce, of S. K. Pierce & Son, chair manufacturers.

Theodore L. Harlow, secretary Heywood Bros. & Wakefield Co., chair manufacturers.

E. F. Brainard, mgr. S. K. Pierce & Son, chair manufacturers.

William D. Smith, president F. W. Smith Co., silverware manufacturers.

The above statement is taken from the news columns of the Gardner Daily News of September 21st, published in Mr. Wilder's home town.

Muster and Field Day.

On Saturday, September 17, the Eclipse engine company of this village held one of the largest and most successful musters and field days of their history. At an early hour the streets began to be thronged with visitors and during the day nearly two thousand people were in attendance.

The weather was especially favorable, particularly in the afternoon when the gale of the morning had subsided and scarcely a breath of wind disturbed the force of the streams played. The parade formed at the railroad station and traversed Main street as far as Thompson's mill, counter marching around the square through Elm street back to the muster field in the following order:

Dr. Henry B. Boynton, marshal of the day; Townsend brass band, followed by Chief Engineer J. F. Piper, R. G. and S. P. Curran of the Centre, Clarence E. Streeter and Charles F. Stickney of this village and Adney W. Gray of the Harbor. Then came the Eclipse engine company of this village with twenty-seven men, George Welch, foreman; Steamer of the Townsend fire department; Gardner, thirty men, C. S. Edgel, foreman; Enterprise of Campello, twenty-three men, Fred Moore, foreman; drum corps from Westminster, thirty-eight men, W. H. Waterhouse, foreman; the Watatics of Ashby, forty men, A. W. Joyce, foreman; Alabama Coons of Stoughton, thirty-six men, Albert Tilden, foreman; Columbia of Winchendon, twenty men, Elpha Whitney, foreman; the Warrens of Pepperell, Giltman H. Robbins, foreman, thirty-seven men; Whitmanville, M. E. Pierce, foreman, twenty men; and the Watch City, Waltham, thirty-eight men, J. H. Kilbourn, foreman.

After returning to Farrar's field, where they drew for positions the men dispersed for the sports and dinner, which was served at engine hall at noon. The sports of the forenoon were as follows: Mile foot-race, won by McPhaeton of Fitchburg; mile bicycle race, George Upton of Townsend; slow bicycle race Thomas Rogers of East Townsend; 100-yard dash, Clement H. Fraser of Gardner.

At one o'clock a band concert was enjoyed followed by the play-out, which resulted in the Columbia's of Winchendon winning the first prize of $200; Warren's of Pepperell, second, $100; the Enterprise of Campello third, $50; and the Alabama Coons of Stoughton, fourth, $25. The special prize of $15 for the company coming the longest distance was divided between the Campello and Stoughton companies and the prize of $10 for the company having the largest number of men in line was awarded to the Watatics of Ashby. The judges were George H. Blatchford and Benjamin Parker from Pepperell at the pipe; F. J. Piper of Townsend and J. C. Allen of Ashby at the plank; D. E. Wilbur of Brockton and Adney W. Gray of Townsend Harbor at the engines; C. E. Streeter of West Townsend, as timer, and the order of plays and number of feet played were as follows:

Watatics, 169 ft. 6 in.; Eclipse, West Townsend, 165 ft. 10 in.; Gen. Miles of Westminster, 186 ft. 3/4 in.; Gardner, 175 ft. 1 1/2 in.; Warrens of Pepperell, 192 ft. 4 in.; Enterprise of Campello, 198 ft. 10 in.; Columbia of Winchendon, 206 ft. 10 1/2 in.; Whitmanville, 186 ft. 1 in.; Alabama Coons of Stoughton, 187 ft. 6 1/2 in.; Watch City, 188 ft. 11 1/2 in.

The Watch City lost the fourth money by being on the players' stand before the starter's signal, and the Eclipse company were summoned from the field in the midst of their turn by an alarm for a brush fire in the woods back of the muster ground, probably set by a spark from a pipe or a cigar.

A very close and exciting game of baseball was played during the afternoon between the Greenville and Townsend A. A. teams, resulting in the home team winning, 8 to 6. The close of the afternoon was filled in a most enjoyable manner with sports consisting of the high jump, which was won by David Howard, Townsend; potato race, Dwight Rawson, West Townsend; climbing the greased pole for a dollar-bill nailed on the top was won by Clarence Jodery; greased pig; after leading the crowd a merry chase down the street, was captured at the schoolhouse by Steven Farrar of Townsend.

Suitable prizes were awarded to the lucky winners in all the sports and the day was passed very pleasantly with little disturbance to mar the harmony of the occasion. The dance in Seminary hall in the evening was largely attended by an orderly and quiet crowd.

Many out-of-town visitors were present and all participated in the evening dancing very heartily. The event as a whole was one of the pleasantest and most successful ever yet held and much credit is due to the committee in charge, who did faithful work, and the hearty cooperation of the townspeople.

Centre.

Miss Goldie Powell of Lexington is at her parent's home this week.

A shower of kitchen utensils was given to Miss E. Pearl Brown, on Wednesday evening, by her young lady friends of the M. E. church. The shower was given as a "Slip hunt party," at the home of Miss Della Goodwin. Miss Brown, who was one of the guests was in this way completely surprised. After the hunt, poems were read which were appropriate for each article found and presented to Miss Brown. During the rest of the evening games were enjoyed and refreshments served. About twenty-five were present, and had a most enjoyable time.

Charles Fuller, who has been enjoying the summer months in Maine, was in town this week, calling on old friends. He will make his home this winter, with his brother at Ashburnham.

Hattie Smith will attend Miss Fisher's kindergarten school at Boston, which commences about the first of October.

Mrs. Alice Robinson of Orlando, Fla., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Turner this week.

The Shirley A. A. will play their second game with Townsend at Athletic park this week Saturday. This will be the last game of the season and the home team will try to win out to make up for their defeat at Shirley last Saturday.

Reception.

The Young People's club gave a reception to the Townsend A. A. at Memorial hall, Tuesday evening, and an excellent time was enjoyed. The entertainment was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Thayer of Pepperell; address of welcome and reading, A. N. Fessenden; song, Mrs. Mabel Brackett; harmonica solo; Wilbur L. Bruce; song, "Sing me to sleep," Stella Farrar; song, "Lighthouse bell," Robert Copeland. The music for the evening was the piano with drum accompaniment and the grand march was led by Harry Whitcomb, captain of the A. A.'s and his wife. Refreshments were served during the evening and dancing and a social time enjoyed.

Reinforced snow-sheds are now being built by western railroads to replace the flatter timber structures.

Episcopal Convention.

The Episcopals of the United States will hold their tri-annual convention at Cincinnati the first week in October. The chief matters to be discussed will be Suffragan bishops, the change of the name of the church to "American Catholic church," and omit the name of "Protestant Episcopal church" from the title page of their prayer book, the preamble, Canon XIX, which allows under the direction of the bishops, ministers and laymen of other denominations to occupy the pulpits of the Episcopal church, some changes in the missionary canons and penoning the infirm clergy.

The high churchmen are determined to have repealed the canon XIX, and if possible put the church where it was before this canon was adopted, allowing no clergymen but those ordained in the Episcopal church to officiate in the churches.

Many meetings will be held in the interests of missions, and prominent laymen are expected to take part in these proceedings. The clerical delegates from the diocese of Massachusetts are Rev. To the Editor:

The school committee, consisting of three members, one of them against all action, have been, and are still, in disagreement over the management and details of the general interest.

The one most attracting at this time is over the person holding the position of janitor, Miss Hartshorn, she having held this for several years. The cause of this dissatisfaction as far as we are able to learn is of a purely personal nature.

No complaints have been made of any importance, if at all, but on the contrary great satisfaction has been shown by parents, children, and the general public. So fully has this been felt that a petition signed by one hundred and twenty-six of the citizens, representing the most influential element, petitioning the said committee against the discharge of the janitor. The said petition has been denied, one member having done his utmost to defeat the last act, the other members being practically one, voted to ask the resignation of the person who refused on advice, as she holds her appointment for one year, handed to her before the commencement of the school year. Her discharge followed, to take effect tonight at twelve o'clock.

This entire action has aroused the intense feeling throughout the town and many very strong words are expressed and future action may be taken. It is well-known that a school committee have under the State law considerable power, or should to a man or men that there was still people who recognized common decency, and certainly feel that there should be a limit to the personal spite shown in this case.

Political News.

Hon. George J. Burns has spoken this week at two Pierce rallies in Waltham, one at Fitchburg and one at Framingham. He reports great enthusiasm for Mr. Pierce everywhere. Hon. Herbert Parker has come out for Mr. Pierce in an open letter; Ex-Congressman Apsley heads the Pierce delegation in Hudson; Hon. George R. Wallace and J. Lovell Johnson of Fitchburg are outspoken Pierce supporters. In Waltham Mr. Pierce has the support of such men as Hon. Nathaniel Warren, Col. Ephraim Stearns and George H. Doty, former candidate for Congress. In Natick, Forrest N. Adams, esq., partner of the late Congressman Tirrell, is on Mr. Pierce's committee.

While the people of Leominster are a unit for Mr. Pierce, the Gardner News publishes in its edition of Wednesday, a list of twenty business men and manufacturers of that town, comprising over seventy-five percent in capital, employers of labor and business interests of Gardner, who declare that they have not and do not intend to endorse Mr. Wilder, thus meeting his claim that he has the support of a large majority of the business interests of that town.

While clergymen are advocating Mr. Wilder as a temperance man, and are attacking Mr. Pierce in voting against referendum amendment of the Bar and Bottle bill, there appears in the Worcester Telegram of yesterday, under the news items from Fitchburg, the following:

"Wilder has had a Ford car at the disposal of J. Lytle Peden, his Fitchburg manager, and others, and last night this car, which is operated by one of Wilder's chauffeurs, a Gardner boy, was used to bring men affiliated with the liquor interests to and from the city hall, with men to be registered on the voting list. On one trip the Wilder car brought up a crowd that included bar tenders and others known to be license and anti-bar and bottle bill workers."

New Work.

Mr. Burns has recently entered into a contract to do a lot of work at the Chandler Planer Company shop for the United Shoe Machinery Company of Beverly. The first shipments of parts came in on Thursday of this week. It is expected that the work will furnish employment for a large number of men, possibly 100, and that it will be practically a permanent job. This is good news for our people. Machinists receive good wages and are desirable citizens. It makes a great deal of difference to our merchants whether there is an extra weekly pay roll in town of about $2,000.

Machine tool work in general continues to be dull, chiefly because railroads are unable to get funds with which to make needed extensions and purchase equipment. Nevertheless, the orders for railroad work at the Chandler shop have been considerable. During the past few months new planers have been built for various railroad shops. Mr. Chandler has recently brought out a new type of planer, from which a large business is expected. With the shoe machinery work it is believed that the shop will soon be running on full force.

After the ceremony the couple took the 11:07 train to Boston, where they were accompanied by the best man and bridesmaid. From Boston they started on their wedding trip, and on their return will reside at Springfield, where Mr. Perry is employed by the American express company. They were the recipients of a number of presents from their many friends.

The gift of the groom to the bride was a gold watch and that of the bride to the best man was a pretty stick pin. The bride has been employed as stenographer at the office of the Chandler Planer Company for some time, and is one of our most popular young ladies in town.

A large delegation of friends and relatives of both the contracting parties were at the railway station to see them off.

Parish Meeting.

The annual parish meeting of St. Andrew's parish of Ayer and Groton, was held on Thursday evening, September 22. The Rev. Dr. Peabody of Groton School, presided.

Wednesday night the vestry met at Dr. Peabody's house and it was decided to call Rev. A. S. Bumpus of Belvidere, Ill., to be the vicar. This action was brought before the parish meeting, calling for discussion. Mr. Bumpus is well-known to the Rector, Mr. Billings, Mr. Birkhead and Mr. Griswold, and after hearing them, Judge Sanderson, senior warden, was called on and reported favorable of the candidate, who was heard one Sunday. Rev. Harry Gray, after leaving for his home in Nevada, and after the Rector had approached Mr. Bumpus, was willing to have his name used, and he was very much liked while in charge of St. Andrew's and Forge Village.

The matter of calling Mr. Bumpus, being before the meeting, the action of the vestry was ratified.

It will not be known for a week or so as to the acceptance of the call, as the church of Marlboro intended calling Mr. Bumpus as rector. The parish comes in close touch with St. Mark's school, where Rev. W. G. Thayer, the first minister at St. Andrew's, is now located.

Rev. Sherard Billings will preach at St. Andrew's next Sunday morning, and it is to be hoped also at Forge Village. Services will be held there and the Sunday school reopen next Sunday.

His age was five years and one month. He was a bright little boy, full of life and his death is a severe blow to his parents. His mother is so prostrated, that she is confined to her bed.

To the Editor:

I have no desire to unduly extend the controversy over Mr. Wilder's explanation of the Roosevelt episode. I, however, cannot afford to have my neglect to reply to a recent local explanation taken as an admission. Mr. Wilder knew what Mr. Roosevelt said to him at the interview, and knew that Mr. Roosevelt subsequently wrote him that he could not be quoted as expressing any opinion on the subject of his candidacy. Responsibility cannot be escaped by throwing it upon George L. Drury, who was in Mr. Wilder's employ.

Notwithstanding the direct statement Mr. Wilder had from Mr. Roosevelt in the latter's letter of August 18, there appeared in the Gardner Journal of September 8, three weeks later, a paid advertisement over the signature of Charles E. Murdock, who signed as "Secretary of Wilder's Congressional Committee," a repetition of the quotation from Mr. Roosevelt, "Mr. Wilder is thoroughly in accord with my progressive policies." Mr. Wilder was certainly responsible for that statement, and cannot throw it upon Mr. Drury, or anyone else.

In contrast to the names of twenty prominent representatives of manufacturing and business concerns in Gardner who decline to endorse Mr. Wilder's candidacy, is the written endorsements of Mr. Pierce's candidacy by over seventy-five of the business men and manufacturers of Leominster, every one who could be reached, every doctor, every lawyer, and every member of the Republican Town Committee. GEORGE J. BURNS.

NEW POLICY INAUGURATED

Under Governor Draper State Starts Pay-As-You-Go Plan

BONDED DEBT WILL BE LESS

Sum of $706,690 For New Buildings Provided For Out of Tax Levy—Charitable Institutions Have Many More Inmates This Year, as Do the Insane Hospitals

For many years it was the policy of the state under Democratic and Republican governors alike to borrow money which was necessary each year to provide new buildings for the increasing number of the sick and insane. Year by year, as population increases, the number of unfortunates to be taken care of likewise increases, until it has finally become apparent that the expenditure of $500,000, or even a larger sum, will be necessary each year for new buildings if the state is to do its full duty toward those who cannot care for themselves. Governor Draper, with the keen eye of a successful business man, quickly realized that the state should not borrow money for such an annual expenditure, even though the loan be made for buildings which would last many years. He realized that it was as bad finance for the state to borrow money year by year to pay for something it had to buy each year, as it would be for a man to borrow money to buy a new suit each year. He also realized that it costs a man more to pay with borrowed money and he realized further that the same rules apply to the state in its purchases as apply to the average citizen in his. He therefore urged the legislature to raise the amount necessary for new buildings by taxation instead of borrowing it. His suggestion was adopted, and $706,690 was appropriated for this purpose. It was a courageous thing for a governor seeking re-election to suggest, for it meant increasing the tax rate. Governor Draper did not hesitate, however. He said it was good business and the members of the legislature agreed with him.

Every citizen who pays a tax this year will perhaps feel a sense of satisfaction that he is helping to inaugurate this new policy of pay as you go.

State Grows and Expenses Grow, Also
This is one reason why the state tax this year is somewhat bigger than it was last year. Another reason and an equally creditable one is that the population of the state is increasing and the expenses of the state government naturally increase in consequence. There has also been a heavy increase in expense owing to the fact that the care of the insane has now been completely transferred from the cities and towns to the commonwealth. This has added more than a million and a half dollars a year to the bills of the state, but it has relieved the towns and cities and has resulted in these unfortunates receiving better care.

The number of the insane has also gone up. Last year 555 additional patients were admitted to the state insane asylums. Many of the hospitals became so crowded that it was found necessary to put up cot beds every night in the corridors, and the state board of insanity has asked that accommodations be provided for 800 new patients.

The care of tubercular patients is another great expense to the state—no less than $220,746 having been appropriated this year for new sanatoriums at Lakeville, North Reading and Westfield.

The Southbridge Savings bank embezzlement called the attention of the legislature to the fact that greater safeguards were necessary to protect the savings of the people, and the bank commissioner was given $28,916 more than the year before to provide for the employment of additional experts for the work of investigating the savings banks, co-operative banks, trust and loan companies. The governor and members of the legislature believed that any expenditure of money needed to protect the savings of the people was amply justified. Investigating Commissions Cost $104,000

The sum of $104,000 was appropriated for the expenses of commissions to investigate the cost of living, to investigate plans for compensating employees for injuries, to investigate the advisability of building a tunnel between the North and South stations in Boston, to investigate the general subject of factory inspection, to investigate the subject of care of tubercular patients, to investigate the assets and liabilities of the N. Y., N. H. and H. R. R., to investigate employment and intelligence offices, to inquire into the necessity for a state hospital, for cases of nervous break-down, and to investigate the cause of the increase of criminals, insane and mental degenerates. The amount appropriated for these subjects was $89,000 in excess of the previous year—a large sum, but every cent of it was necessary to make sure of getting the facts on which to act intelligently in the future.

There have also been increases in the running expenses of a large number of the state departments, and these have helped to add to the tax levy. One of the largest increases, amounting to $349,000, is credited to the state charitable institutions and was caused in part by the large increase in the number of inmates, and in part by the shortening of the hours of labor of the employees of these institutions, the payment of higher wages, and the higher prices of supplies.

The Expenses For Education Have Grown

The increase in the cost of education of deaf children was $12,000, owing to a larger number of pupils. The expenses of the textile schools of the state, largely for new buildings, were augmented by $46,500; and the expenses of the independent industrial schools by $26,000.

The district police also costs a good deal more now than it did a few years ago. The legislature has passed a great many laws governing the employment of labor in factories and workshops, and it is the duty of the state police to see that these laws are enforced, in order that the working people of the state may be properly protected in their rights and also that the laws governing the employment of children may be properly enforced. While all of these things tend very materially to add to the tax rate, they increase the comfort of the working classes in factories and workshops and tend to the uplift of the commonwealth.

There are other items which help to make up the difference between the state tax this year and last year, such as an increase of $80,000 for the care of indigent and neglected children and $15,000 for the care of contagious diseases. They are made necessary by an increased population and the continued determination of the governor and the legislature that the conditions of living in Massachusetts shall remain in the future as good if not even better than they have been in the past.

How to Clean Paint.

The ordinary whitening sold by grocers and stores is excellent for cleaning paint and does not injure it in the least. Mix it with cold water to the consistency of cream, wring a clean cloth out of warm water, squeeze it as dry as possible, dip it in the whitening mixture and rub the paint until all the stains disappear. A wooden skewer such as butchers use is excellent for pushing the cloth into crevices and corners. Rinse off the whitening with warm water and a clean cloth and then wipe the paint as dry as possible. If rubbed until quite dry the polish will be restored to the paint and it will look like new.

How to Clean Feathers.

Prepare a strong lukewarm soapuds. Dip the feather in the suds and draw it through the hands as often as necessary, but don't let it remain in the soapy water. If it is very dirty it will require two suds. Rinse in clear cold water. When thoroughly rinsed draw it through the hand repeatedly until about dry, then slap it with the hand to bring it out fluffy.

How to Remove Kerosene.

Kerosene may be removed by the use of fuller's earth. Cover the stain with a thick layer of hot fuller's earth and let it remain twenty-four hours, then brush off.

The Witch Finders.

Three hundred years ago the business of finding out witches was well established and accepted in courts of law, as highly proper. In 1640 it is recorded that the magistrates of Newcastle, England, sent to Scotland for an expert witch finder. This gifted person proceeded to show his skill by discovering fifteen witches and securing their conviction. One Matthew Hopkiss was a celebrated witch finder of that period. It was easy to discover witches when you knew how. The suspected person could be forced to weep and then detected by the well known fact that a witch could shed only three tears and those from the left eye, or she could be pricked with pins to discover the spot insensible to pain, which was a sure sign of dealings with the devil. That women were far more likely to dabble in witchcraft than men was conceded. The reason was satisfactorily explained by a famous German text book on witches published in the fifteenth century. It was simply that women were inherently wicked, whereas men naturally inclined to goodness.

The Coyote.

The coyote is the little brother of the Indian. When the buffalo vanished from the plains the Indian shot his rifle into the air, wrapped his blanket closer about him and came into the reservation to grow fat and unpicturesque under federal auspices. When the jack rabbit and molly cottontail vanish from the plains and foothills the howl of the last coyote will sink into silence beyond the great divide. Until that far day arrives, however, hang the bacon high, for while the rabbit remains the most skillful four legged forager the world ever knew will bay at the moon by night and just keep out of rifle range by day. The coyote knows more about traps than a Canadian "voyageur" is an expert on strychnine and never falls for the deadfall. He is rather fond of lambs and calves, but rabbits are the oatmeal of this phantom highlander, and as "Diamond Field" Jack Davis would say, "where two or three of these are gathered together there you will find the coyote, seeking to stow one of them into his midst."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

When a Burglar Calls at Night.

"If a burglar breaks into your house at night don't try to corner him," said an old headquarters policeman. "If the visitor awakens you make noise enough to scare him away, but don't go after him with a gun. Ten to one he'll get you before you can hit him. It's better to lose a few dollars' worth of goods than your life. I'm giving it to you straight. The average man, waked up in the middle of the night, always badly frightened, hasn't a chance against the man with nerve enough to break into an occupied house. Every burglar is a potential murderer and will shoot to kill if you try to catch him. And why not? He's got a big, long term in prison staring him in the face if he's nabbed, and he'll take a chance on murder every time to get away. Leave the capture of such gentry to the 'cops.' They're paid to be shot at; you ain't."—Kansas City Star.

The Normans.

The Normans were Northmen, or, to be more precise, the descendants of Northmen, who had been expelled from their native Norway in consequence of an effort on their part to subvert its institutions and to make its lands hereditary instead of being divisible among all the sons of the former owner. A band of expatriated outlaws and robbers, they won and held the fair province of northern France, which they named Normandy, after their native land. When they invaded England they were Frenchmen only in the sense that they had lived for some generations on French soil. In blood they belonged to the great Germanic breed, along with the Anglo-Saxons, Danes and other Scandinavian and German peoples.—New York American.

Why She Was Silent.

A very silent old woman was once asked why it was she had so little to say. She replied that when she was a young girl she was very ill and could not talk for a long time, whereupon she made a vow that if speech were given her once more she would never again say anything unkind of anybody. And thus she was as they found her.—Exchange.

As Mr. Shattuck and family were returning from Townsend they were misled by the search lights of an automobile standing beside the road near Hutchinson's store at the Centre. Thinking the machine was approaching on the right, Mr. Shattuck turned his car to the left side of the road when discovered. It was too late to avoid colliding with a telephone pole in front of the residence of Charles Gage. Fortunately none of the occupants were seriously injured, but the car was somewhat demolished.

Mrs. F. W. Stevens and son Bernard of Newton Centre, spent the weekend with relatives and friends in town, returning home in their automobile on Saturday afternoon.

The floral decorations at the grave of Dr. C. A. Grenache were the finest that could be. Perfection in beauty and display were there; and by the hands of his friends fresh flowers replaced the faded. The picture taken of the grave and the decorations shows a mass of flowers and the arrangement and work was done by F. A. Conant, grand master of Beacon lodge, I. O. O. F., and certainly reflects much credit on Mr. Conant for the originality as well as the perfectness of the work that he displayed.

Roscoe Woodward has returned to resume his studies at Dean academy.

There will be a harvest dinner served at the vestry of the M. E. church on Thursday, September 29, at twelve o'clock, under the auspices of the C. E. society. Their dinners are famous both as to quality, quantity and taste.

The meeting of a few interested citizens at the home of Mrs. L. E. Starr, last Monday night, resulted in a manifestation of large amount of interest in having a reading room and library at the east part of the town. A large number of daily, weekly and monthly publications were pledged, and about almost two hundred books. Details are being looked into by committees, and at the next meeting on Monday evening, September 26, at the home of Mrs. P. W. Flynn, reports are to be heard and plans completed for the immediate opening of a place for the youth of this thickly populated section to go to where good reading can surely be found.

The Warrens are very proud and justly so of their performance last Saturday at the West Townsend muster, bringing home one hundred dollars and that with a part crew of men at the pumps. But as usual the active, energetic foreman and his assistants planned well and when the stream of 199 ft. 9 1/2 in. was reached, there was a cheer, for it had beaten all previous tubs and not surpassed until the Columbia of Winchendon placed 206 ft. 10 1/2 in.

Town Meeting.

The adjourned town meeting was called to order at 8.15 o'clock, Thursday evening, September 15, by moderator, C. H. Miller. Article 2 was taken from the table "To hear the report of the water commissioners and act in relation thereto."

G. T. Keyes, chairman of the commission, read the communications received by the water board advising them to the vote of the last meeting. He referred to the work on Sheffield street as being completed since the last meeting and asked for a continuance of two weeks in which to get that report. He also stated that they were not able to discern by the vote just what kind of a report was wished, as they might go to the extreme of printing everything that had occurred in and out of the board meetings, which might take over one hundred pages to do. He also stated that he wished to submit his resignation to take effect on September 29.

Mr. Keyes reviewed the work the board had accomplished, and while they may have made some mistakes, they thought it best to report after their work was completed. P. J. Kemp, town clerk, read the resignations of G. T. Keyes and Waldo Spaulding. It was voted to wait until two weeks for the report and to lay the resignations on the table until the next meeting, September 29.

Voted, to adjourn until Thursday evening, September 29.

Miss Harriet Lawrence recently received a unique birthday gift from a friend in Boston, who is American secretary of the society for Egyptian research. It is a beautiful blue, glazed statuette of an Egyptian servant found in the tomb of a king at Abydos, and is known to archeology as a ushabti. The Egyptians were accustomed to bury several of these figures in the graves of their princes, that they might do the work of their royal masters on the journey from their life of this particular ushabti as 575 years through the halls of judgment to the hereafter. Archeologists fix the date before the Christian era.

Items of Interest.

A very interesting example of the effects upon lightning of the presence of points is the Temple of Solomon. Josephus tells us that the roof was ornamented with points covered with gold; the points probably were intended to prevent birds from settling and so soiling the roof. But the unintended effect was that the temple was perfectly protected from lightning, and in a country in which thunderstorms are severe and frequent it stood undamaged for a thousand years. When the Roman emperor tried to rebuild it leaving out the points and the gold, it was "struck" at once.

The cultivation of cocoa is at present an inviting agricultural pursuit in Trinidad and parts of Venezuela. The cocoa tree cannot withstand strong sunshine, and the young plants have to be shaded by banana or plantain trees, and later, when they attain their growth, by tall trees known as "immortels" or the "mother of the cocoa." These make a kind of canopy over the entire plantation. The fruit of the cocoa trees is a pod resembling a cucumber, and growing on the trunk or large branches, where it looks as though it were artificially attached. The seeds are like large, thick lima beans imbedded in pulp. These form the cocoa beans of commerce. The processes of curing and drying require much attention.

Ether is consumed by gallons to get drunk on in a small part of Scotland. The origin of this peculiar and limited abuse is strange. In 1845 a bad epidemic of cholera broke out in Glasgow. Among those flying from it were some who came back to Draperstown, their native place. With them they brought a cholera mixture which they found "exceedingly comfortable." A rascally doctor, knowing that the comfort proceeded from ether, laid in a whole cask. He made his fortune, and started the habit that still lives. Ether is sold over counters in Scotland, the penny a drink. An old ether top can drink two or three ounces a day, but one-half ounce is one big dram in water. The drinker gets hilarious in a minute. It is far older and dangerous than alcohol.

From the Methodist conference in Iowa comes the remarkable news of a remarkable exodus from the ministry. Fifty-seven men having given notice of their withdrawal and engage in secular work. The reason assigned is the insufficiency of the average minister's salary. Cases are cited in which men of education and refinement, with families on their hands, are expected to live on a pittance of $500 a year, and $700 a year is a common figure. At the present time when the cost of living is extraordinary high, the strain must needs be too great even for the most patient and self-sacrificing of these underpaid servants of the church. The danger to the church is obvious, and unless the well-to-do laymen in the congregations affected come to the rescue, the matter of finding means of defence looks serious indeed. Nor is it only the loss of ministers already trained to the work that is in prospect. Clearly, if the rewards of ministerial service continue to be generally insufficient, a great falling off in the number of students for the ministry is inevitable, and thus a two-fold danger has to be met, with no apparent means of meeting it.

European subjects of the czar are now migrating to Siberia at the rate of about half a million a year. Most of them get cheap railroad rates and an allotment of land—forty-one and one-half acres per adult—on arrival. "Whole districts in European Russia have been denuded of their male population," writes Consul General Snodgrass, "and a traveler on the lines leading out of Moscow to the west, north and east, will notice on his journey thousands at the stations along the way, with their few possessions packed up in sacks and handkerchiefs, waiting for the emigrant train to carry them to their new homes where they expect living conditions to be more favorable to themselves and families."

The experiment of a non-tip hotel in the Strand in London has proved a success. Since the establishment was opened a year ago there has not been a vacant bedroom. Every day the management has had to refuse visitors. Altogether nearly a quarter of a million guests have stayed at the hotel in the 345 days it has been open. Most of the women of the royal families of Europe are honorary colonels of regiments, but they are actually permitted to wear the regimental uniform with a skirt instead of trousers.

Ex-Attorney General
Herbert Parker
Endorses Harry L. Pierce's
Candidacy for Nomination

The following letter will explain itself to the Republican voters of the Fourth Congressional District: September 20, 1910.

JAMES H. P. DYER, Esq.,
Leominster, Mass.

MY DEAR SIR:

In answer to your inquiry I beg to reply that as between the two declared candidates for the Republican Congressional nomination in the Fourth District, I have no hesitation in expressing my own preference for Mr. Pierce, who appears to me to be alert, intelligent and energetic, with a real and active sympathy with public interests. It seems to me that his purpose is rather to serve the people according to his best ability than to exploit a selfish insistence upon personal ambitions. Mr. Pierce's attitude is that of candidly submitting his qualifications for consideration of the voters, nor has he appropriated to himself any fictitious endorsements or pretentious alliances with distinguished persons.

I believe that Mr. Pierce, if elected, will be diligent in the study of the problems of the government; that he will gravely and deliberately consider and act upon the issues of legislation that will come before him, and that he will faithfully and unostentatiously serve his district, becoming more efficient with the experience that service will bring to his efforts.

I have learned to distrust the over-confident egotism, the pretensions and promises of which far exceed the possibility of fulfillment, even by those who possess the highest intellectual and political genius.

I am,
Very Respectfully Yours,

HERBERT PARKER.

This is only one of the many endorsements of Mr. Pierce. It shows the standing Mr. Pierce has with the thoughtful Republicans in the district.
