The May festival will be held under the auspices of the Back Log club in the town hall on May 13. The entertainment will begin at 7:30 and last until nine o'clock, and there will be general dancing from 9:30 until 11, with the popular Victor orchestra for music. The entertainment consists of a drama dance beginning with the drama dance of enter. Winter finally becomes exhausted, and her storms, winds, etc., will under the genial influence of spring. Winter is impersonated by Mrs. Hager. A spring dance follows, and the ladies and lasses gather on the stage dressed in the place with flowers and green, and a sprightly dance follows. The queen follows shortly with all her maids of honor, special maids, maids of honor, subjects of different kinds, who crown the queen. Finally the queen is entertained by her rainbow, a rainbow dance and the winding of the May pole concludes the spectacular entertainment.

The Board of Trade have issued advertising for apple blossom day, May 13 and 14, stating that Littleton is the most and most extensive apple town in the state. E. H. Flagg, John Hardy, Frost & Pratt, N. H. Whitcomb, Walter Pitcomb, C. V. Frazier, E. J. Roy, Harry W. Ninkhis and others are some of the largest orchardists, and will be glad to welcome the thousands of them around. The secretary is Charles F. Watts.

Elmer Canney's family, of Cambridge, have the week with Mr. and Mrs. George W. Canney.

John MacKinley will sell at public auction on Friday, May 12, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, his extensive apple farm in Newtown, stock, tools, vehicles, farming implements, furniture, etc., preparatory to his departure for Kinley is disposing of his property because of his feeble health and advancing years.

Elmer W. Fletcher is installing electric lights in his buildings. Roy Canney doing the work.

An occasion to members of the Woman's club will be the annual meeting to be held at the Congregational vestry on Monday afternoon, May 8. Instead of the annual business transactions which feature the annual meetings there will also be several novel reminders of the past. In fact, the colonial spirit will pervade the entire meeting. The costumes of the ladies and the little maids of a younger generation, who will act as ushers, the minut, the old-fashioned tea—but we must leave something for next week's issue. The fact that the affair is an inspiration of the chairman insures the success of the final number on the season's program.

The regular meeting of the Bible club will be held at the usual place on Wednesday, May 10, at 7:30 o'clock. Important preparations are being made to put in the 300, 500 and 600 yard races, and other events. The members of the club is needed just at this time.

The service of dedication on Sunday evening, April 23, introduced to the community the new electric lights in the Baptist church at the Common, was well attended. The church has been continuously omitting their evening services so that all who wished might attend. The lights, which are fastened to the ceiling of the church, are of the Bruce-Hesselt Co. of Fitchburg, are proving satisfactory in all respects. The five large globes in the main auditorium conceal the lamps wholly, so that a mild, agreeable, light is diffused evenly through all parts of the church. No glare of light at any point. The Young People's society is to be credited with this much needed improvement. The work was undertaken last year upon their own initiative, and funds more than sufficient to cover the cost of the installation have been provided through their efforts. The service was conducted by the pastor, assisted by a fraternal class and by the church choir, who rendered among other selections, the "Ode and fitting anthem, 'O light eternal'."

That Miss Marlon Hertha Clarke is favorably remembered in town was evident by the attendance at her funeral on Monday evening, April 25, when Daddy Long Legs was presented by Miss Clarke in the town hall to a highly appreciative audience. Betsie and her musical selections were acceptably rendered by Miss Elsie Whitney, pianist; Miss Gladys Woodbury, soprano; and Whitney Caulkins, bass.

The Alliance met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. E. Abbott on "The Blossoms" on King street. The address was given by Rev. O. J. Fair, field on "Religious news and outlook." This was also a religious meeting for reports and election of officers.

J. W. Dodds has installed a telephone.

Eleven years ago the Fairfield children were given a pair of bantam chickens which were given the names of Pinkerton Peckins and Primrose. Pinkerton died the next year of old age, but Primrose, a little dove-colored hen, very pretty and tame, although supposed to be as old as her mate, had many adventures about the yard and in story and poetry in the Little magazine, the Yio, published by children when they were younger, until April 19 of this year, when she entered the happy hunting ground and her body was buried in a purple box under the lilac tree—and that is the end of the story.

J. H. D. Whitcomb paid $215 for a cow, Maud Cloverlands Korndyke, at the first sale under the auspices of the Hubbard Live Stock Sales Co., held at Bellows Falls, Vt., on April 18 and 19. Rev. Manley B. Townsend, of Nashua, N. H., who was one of the preachers at the community preaching mission a few weeks ago, was the preacher at the Unitarian church last Sunday in exchange with Rev. O. J. Fairfield.

The birds are coming in great numbers this season and so are the bird lectures. The third of last week was given Saturday evening in the Unitarian vestry by the secretary of the Audubon society for New Hampshire, Rev. Manley B. Townsend, of Nashua. The lecture was illustrated with slides from photographs of his own taking and from other sources. We cannot have too many lectures making us acquainted with our bird neighbors, when the lectures are of the quality of the three given last week.

Edith Barber was brought home from the Lowell hospital Sunday and continues to regain strength and health. Sally Kimball has been out of school this week on account of sickness.

Douglas Whitcomb has ordered a new Buick touring car.

KERLEY, REED & BRYANT Harvard, Mass.

Saturday, May 6, 1916. WESTFORD

Center. Miss Mabel Prescott in one of the latest victims of whooping cough. Mrs. Nellie P. Draper, of Aburndale, who was one of the speakers at the Tadmuck club luncheon Tuesday was the guest during her stay of Mrs. H. V. Hildreth.

Miss Nellie Gill, of Boston, is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. J. Herbert Fletcher.

Mrs. George T. Day's many friends have been sorry to learn this week of her serious illness. Wednesday morning she underwent a surgical operation performed at her home by Dr. Martin, of Lowell, assisted by her family physician, J. H. Robinson, of Westford. The operation was successful and that she is resting as comfortably as can possibly be expected under the circumstances.

Since the recent burials the selectmen have had the electric lights kept burning all night. The local police force have been on the alert and the townspeople have made every effort to safeguard their homes and property. Owing to delays in transportation of freight some parts of the large new pump at the pumping station have not arrived and therefore the pump has not been put in operation yet. The setting up and installing of this big piece of machinery has been entrusted to an engineering firm by Supt. A. H. Sutherland and his helpers.

The costume party and dance at the town hall last Friday evening was a pretty affair and a success, reflecting much credit upon the young ladies who had the honor and quite a number of the details. One of the pleasant features was the tuning on for the first time of the electric lights, which have been installed. The dance was well attended, there being about fifty couples. Among the dancing couples were a young lady from Concord took the first prize for the best dancing and Miss Abbie Lee, of the second prize. This feature of the party was not entered into by the guests as well as the committee in charge had hoped for, although it otherwise was a success. Neyman's orchestra furnished music for the dancing and refreshments were served at intervals. A good sum was cleared for the Grange treasury. Misses Beatrice Sutherland and Grace Robinson were in charge of the affair.

An Easter wedding of interest was that of James L. Kimball and Miss Nellie E. Kimball. The wedding ceremony took place last week Wednesday and Mr. Kimball and his bride have taken up their residence at Mr. Kimball's Westford home on Main street.

An additional dollar has been added to the twenty-eight dollars presented to the J. V. Kimball church by the proceeds of the extension school held during the season. It is a foregone conclusion that the total amount will make a wise investment of this latest acquisition.

Following the cold, wet spring, plants and garden are making a good start behind schedule time. Aside from early peas very little planting has been done and the garden is in condition for another week or two.

Tadmuck Club. The annual Tadmuck club luncheon which took place at the Unitarian vestry on Tuesday was one of the pleasant social events of the spring season. Mrs. Goldsmith H. Conant was the hostess of the day and her original and effective planning made the occasion for all the burden of service not falling too heavily upon any of the members. Each course was served on a tray which was placed on a table in which they were served. The luncheon was well attended and the progressive feature for the day was the serving of coffee and cream. The tables and the appointments at each table were arranged in a most pleasing and artistic manner. The members of the club have undertaken and accomplished.

Miss Mabel Prescott presented a very sincere and graceful appreciation of the retiring president's service. The club during the past two years, and Mrs. Hildreth responded in her own language way. The incoming president, Miss Alice M. Howard was introduced and spoke briefly, seeking the co-operation and loyalty of the members. In the coming year with winning effortfulness. Every member feels grateful to Miss Howard for taking on the leadership of the club, for she wishes to the work both ability and experience.

Mrs. Warren Richardson Cushing and her son, Warren, Jr., are expected from Florida this week for a short visit before coming to Framingham for the summer.

The Minors schoolhouse was sold to the highest bidder at auction last Saturday. Fred O. Stiles of Littleton, for $110. On the same day the Nabua schoolhouse was bid off to George C. Moore of North Chatham and for $150, exclusive of the land, which he had previously purchased of the town. The schoolhouse will be sold to the town on a revertible basis when the town ceases to keep school.

Envelopes for contribution for the American Red Cross station were distributed at the First Parish church last Sunday, and the collection will be made in a similar manner at the church on Sunday.

Rev. L. H. Buckhorn and Seth W. Pannini, on Monday for Middleboro, where they have been engaged to work ten acres of apple orchard.

The body of Mrs. Josephine Laws was brought to her home in Fairview on Monday. She will be buried in the cemetery on Monday. Mrs. Laws was a member of the church for many years and on the farm most recently owned by the late Albert E. Jones of the Chelmsford road.

The body of Fred Kinsman, of Saugus, was brought to town for burial in Fairview cemetery last Saturday. He was an uncle of Lyman A. Wickham, of the town. In the suit of Lyman A. Wickham vs. Corkery the Boston milk contractor for overdue payment, the jury found for the plaintiff and awarded him $1000. The jury found evidence in favor of the plaintiff except his own money.

Death. On April 29, passed on to her reward, Mrs. E. H. Stone, of Salem, Ill. She was the widow of George W. Stone, a native of Westford, and the daughter of Sarah H. Hill and Rufus Patten and was born in 1840 in Westford place, a short distance from town on the road to Forge Village. The family were constant attenders of the Congregational church and devoted to its interests which interest shows later in the work which she did in the Westford church. She was a strong interest in education in her home. The father had been a student at the academy and she sent all of her children. The daughter, George, entered in 1852, when Samuel was the principal of Dartmouth college. In 1858 she was married to the Congregational church to Isaac Henry Stone, of Westford, by the pastor, Rev. Henry H. Stone, who was a native of England and trained in the Westford academy. She was a member of the church and she was a devoted mother and a devoted wife. She was a member of the church and she was a devoted mother and a devoted wife. She was a member of the church and she was a devoted mother and a devoted wife.

Miss Edith Foster was the hostess of the day. The musical features of the program were vocal solos by Mrs. C. A. Blaney, piano duet by Mrs. Watson and Miss Julia Fletcher, vocal duet by Mrs. Charles H. Wright and Mrs. Blaney. Mrs. Nellie P. Draper was introduced and brought the greetings of the Aburndale Women's club in a most pleasing and artistic manner. The members of the club have undertaken and accomplished.

Miss Mabel Prescott presented a very sincere and graceful appreciation of the retiring president's service. The club during the past two years, and Mrs. Hildreth responded in her own language way. The incoming president, Miss Alice M. Howard was introduced and spoke briefly, seeking the co-operation and loyalty of the members. In the coming year with winning effortfulness. Every member feels grateful to Miss Howard for taking on the leadership of the club, for she wishes to the work both ability and experience.

Reports from the various departments were called for and given. The work of these departments has been given in these columns as they have been accomplished during the season, therefore, a further report is not necessary. The nominating committee, Mrs. William C. Roubenbush, chairman, presented their report. Upon motion of Miss Loker, the club believed honorary president, one ballot was cast by years during which she served, 225 meetings were held, and she missed only eleven. She was interested in every phase of church work and in every line of social activity and she identified herself with it. The record of her last week of life on earth shows that on Sunday she taught her class of forty women, on Monday she read a paper before the Missionary society, on Tuesday night she went to the church prayer meeting and was asked to offer prayer. On Friday as a member of the church school board she went to the school, it being patrons' day. She visited each room and gave an account of her work. On her way home she stopped and spoke with a member of the Chautauqua committee in regard to the Chautauqua meetings which were to be held in Salem in the summer, and she gave her order for several tickets. Early this morning she passed on with a peaceful mind, leaving behind her a life rich in service.

Services were held in the church at Salem on Monday afternoon. It was a last tribute to one who had been a friend to everyone. The husband, the niece, Prof. Grace Patten (daughter of James Milliken university, lecturer, U. S. made the funeral arrangements. On Wednesday afternoon a service was held at the home of A. E. # Which Do You Prefer?

It is important for reasons of health and practical economy for every housekeeper to ask herself this question:

"Do I prefer a pure baking powder like Royal, made of cream of tartar derived from grapes, or am I willing to use a baking powder made of alum or phosphate, both derived from mineral sources?"

The names of the ingredients printed on the label show whether the kind you are now using or any brand, new or old, that may be offered is a genuine cream of tartar powder, or merely a phosphate or alum compound.
